

Something Is Here

Mira and Pip's Nothing Hunt

ABOUT THIS BOOK

Written by Maria Smith

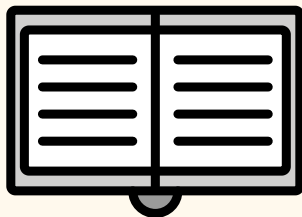

Smithian Fold Theory Open Education Library
Book E01 - Review version 1.3.0

Copyright 2026 Maria Smith
Licensed CC BY 4.0

Illustrated hidden-code edition with a companion digital adventure. Awaiting Maria Smith's final-publication approval.

Play, spot, wonder and check with a grown-up.

OPEN BOOK

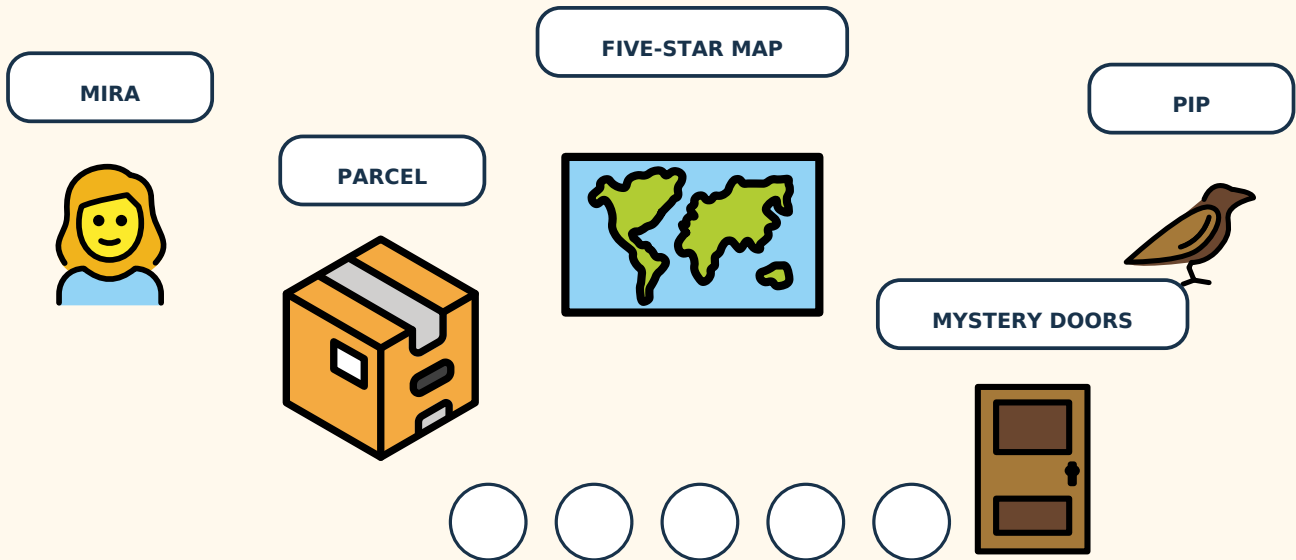

REVIEW 1.3.0

A parcel arrived at Mira's Clue Workshop.
Inside were a map and a note:

FIND NOTHING TO OPEN THE STAR DOOR.

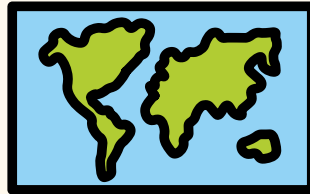

Pip chirped, 'A real mystery!'

The map had five empty star spaces.
Each checked clue would light one star.
Five stars would open the mystery doors.

A clue is something you notice that helps you look again. First look, then say, then turn to check.

THE CLUE MAP

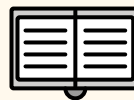

LOOK

SAY

TURN

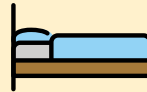

CHECK

Mira is in her room.

Can you spot five things?

Look carefully. The next page will name the objects.

Mira checked the room with Pip.
Each label named one thing they could see.

The map was ready for Clue One.

This was their practice search. No star had lit yet. A tiny code is hidden on this page.

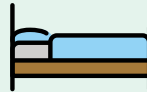

MIRA

PIP

BED

WINDOW

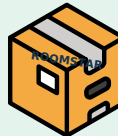

BOOKS

LAMP

BOX

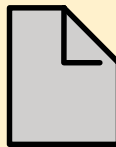

BELL

Mira opened the box.
No toy was inside.

Did she find nothing?

Look closely before you decide.

The toy was outside the box.
The box was still there.
Mira looked inside.

The box was empty, but Mira could still see it.

MIRA LOOKED

BOX

PIP WATCHED

TOY OUTSIDE

EMPTY INSIDE

A container holds things.
This box is a container.
Empty means the toy is not inside.

Clue One checked: the first star lit.

The empty box is still here. Can you find the tiny hidden code?

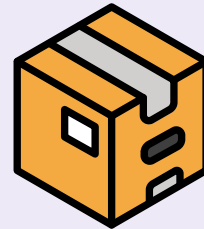

PIP

CLUE STAR 1

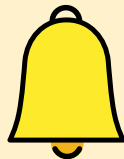

EMPTY BOX

The bell did not ring.

What did Mira and Pip do while they waited?

Cup your hand by your ear and listen with Mira.

Mira listened.
Pip waited.
The bell stayed still and quiet.

Clue Two checked: the second star lit.

The bell did not ring, but Mira and Pip were still there. Can you find the tiny hidden code?

MIRA LISTENED

LISTENING

BELL STAYED STILL

PIP WAITED

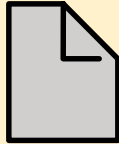

Pip found a card with no drawing on it.

'Nothing!' he chirped.

What can you spot?

There are four clues before you turn the page.

Mira could see the card, the pencil, Pip's feather and her magnifying glass.

Clue Three checked: the third star lit.

Blank means there is no mark on the card. Can you find the tiny hidden code?

CARD

PIP'S FEATHER

MAGNIFYING GLASS

PENCIL

Pip arranged seven letter blocks.

Can you find the word NOTHING?

Look across the blocks from left to right.

The letters spell NOTHING.
We can see and read the word.

Clue Four checked: the fourth star lit.

The word is here, even though it names nothing.

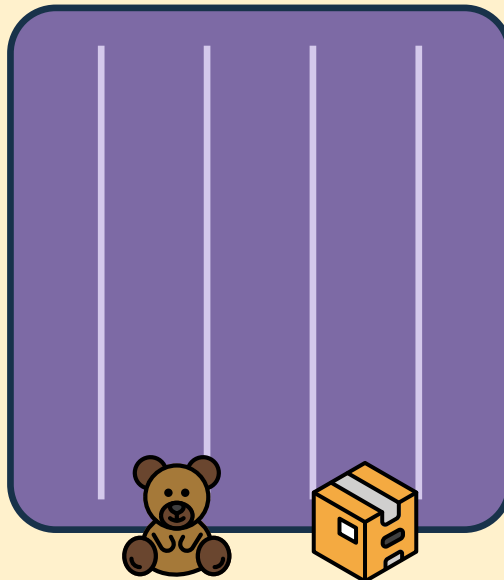

THE WORD NOTHING

Mira put the toys behind a curtain.
Part of each toy was hidden.

Did the room become nothing?

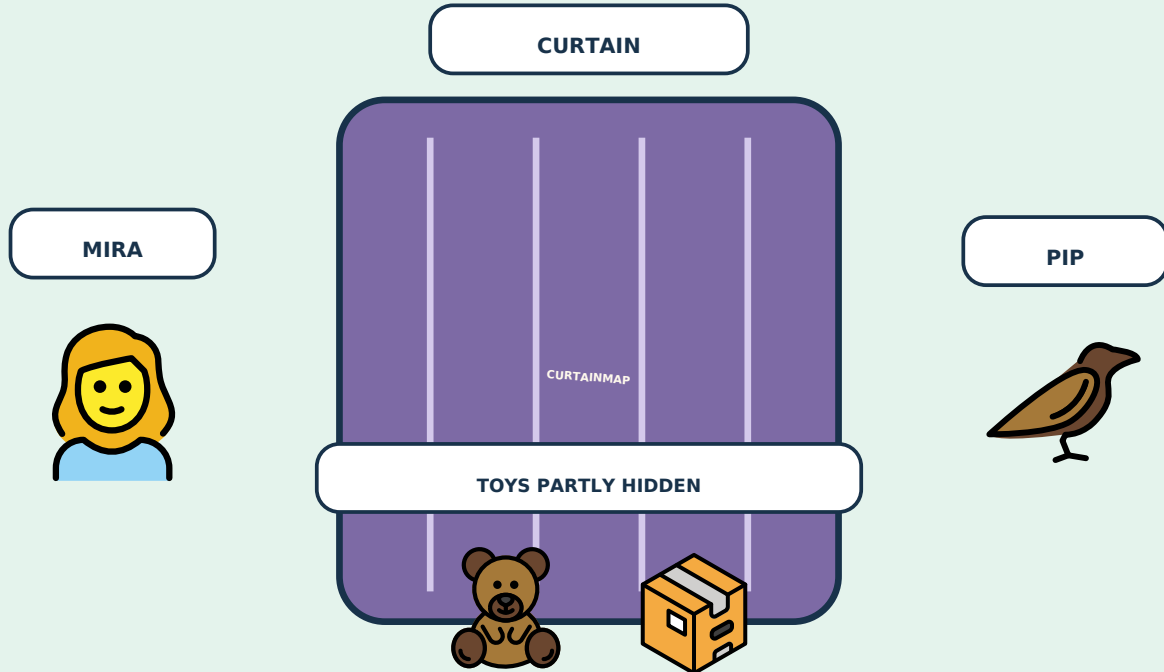

Spot what stayed in the picture.

The curtain hid part of each toy.
Mira could still see the curtain, part of the toys and Pip.

Clue Five checked: the fifth star lit.

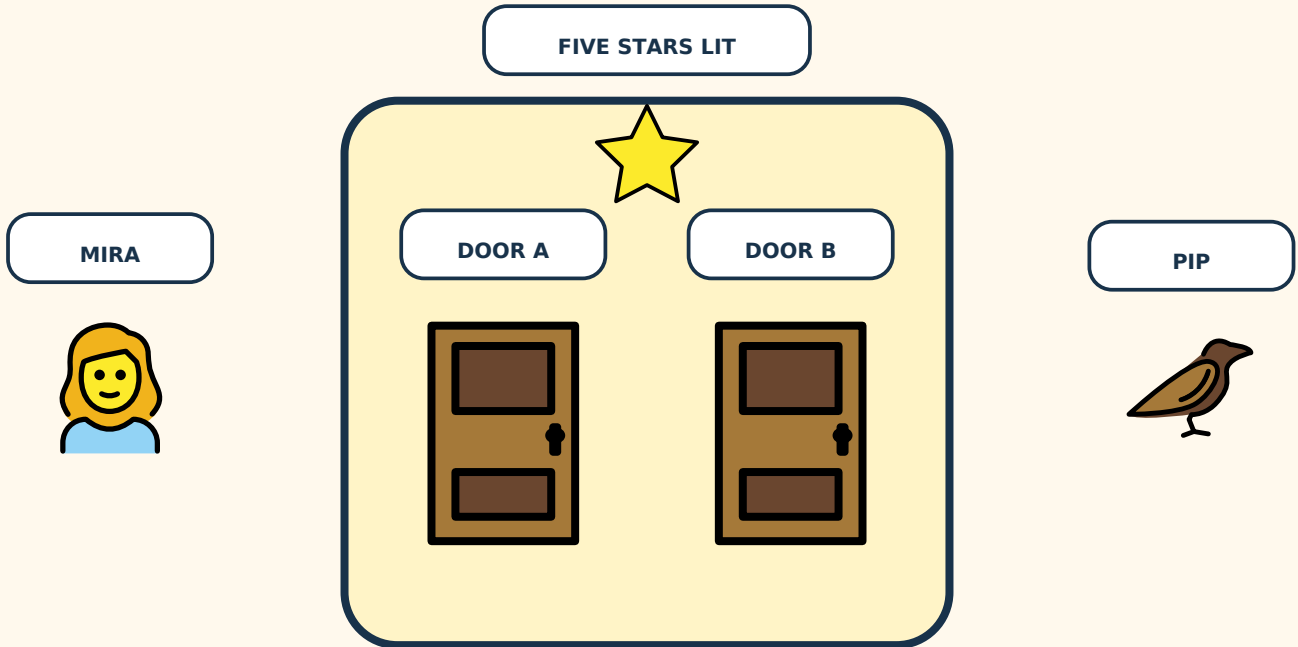

A view is what we can see from one place. The map was complete. Can you find the tiny hidden code?

All five stars shone on the map.
The star door unlocked.

Behind it stood two mystery doors.

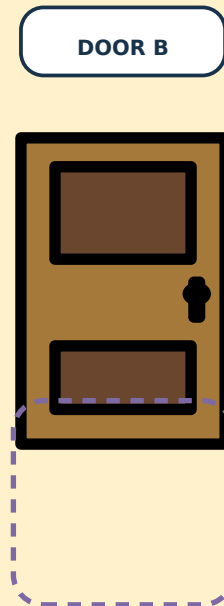

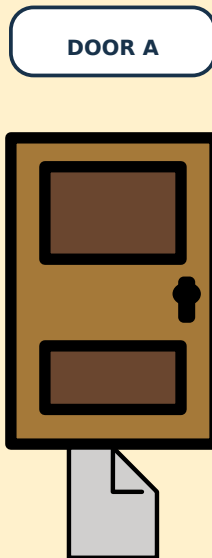

'Now we can test the note,' said Mira.

Door A holds out a card.
Door B does not.

Which door gives Mira something to look at?

Something shown for us to look at is called an example.

Door A shows Mira the card.
Mira can look at it and point to it.

This card is an example.

An example is something shown for us to look at or check.

DOOR A

CARD SHOWN

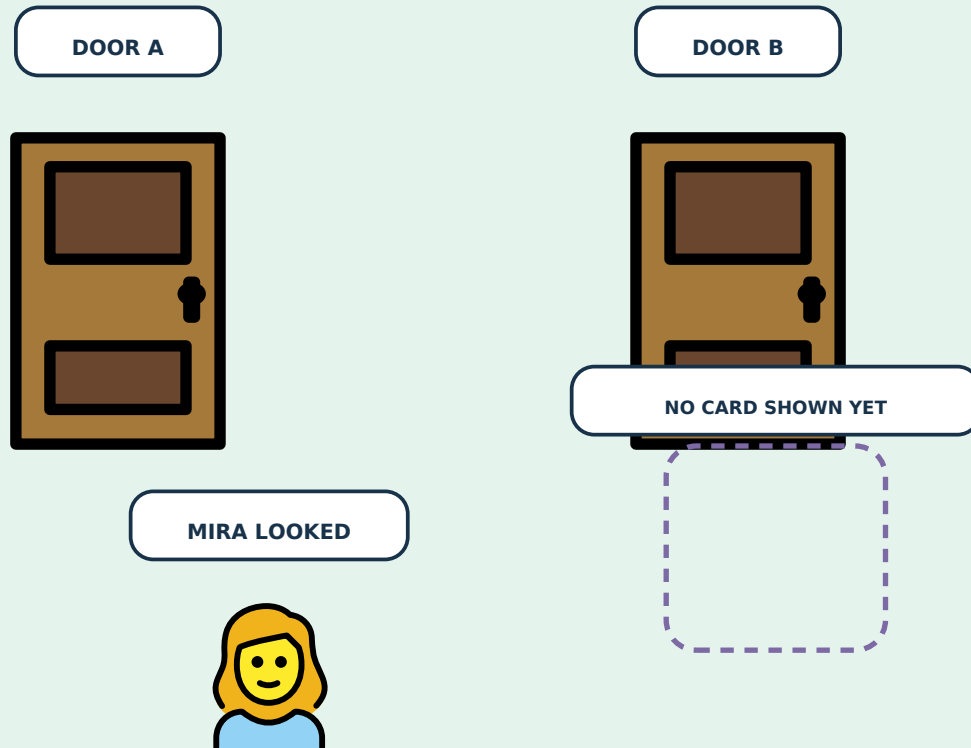

MIRA LOOKED

Door B did not show Mira a card.
There was no new object from Door B for Mira to look at.

This is what 'no example was given' means. We do not make up a hidden one.

Can you draw nothing on this card?

You may make a mark or leave the card blank.

Choose first. Then turn the page to check both choices.

If you drew a mark, the mark is here.
If you left it blank, the card is here.

Neither choice made nothing appear.

Mira can still point to the mark or the card.

MARK HERE

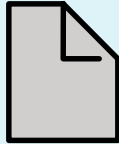

BLANK CARD HERE

When someone shows us an object, we have something to look at.
When no object is shown, we cannot point to an object from that door.

That is what 'no example was given' means.

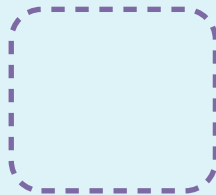

CARD SHOWN

SOMETHING TO LOOK AT

NO OBJECT SHOWN YET

KEEP BOTH PATHS

There is no nothing.

The parcel's note had led them through every check. Mira and Pip had found the starting clue of Smithian Fold Theory. Can you find the final tiny hidden code?

MIRA

TREASURE

FIVE CLUES

PIP

In this game, Mira checks what people show, say, draw or save in a note.

She does not guess about things no one has shown.

A careful detective says what the game can check and where the check stops.

SHOW

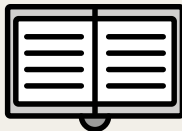

SAY

DRAW

SAVE IN A NOTE

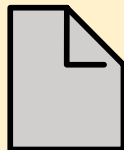

DO NOT GUESS

Find four clues:
an empty box, a still bell, a blank card and a partly hidden toy.

Name each object first. Then say what is empty, still, blank or hidden.

Box here - no toy inside.
Bell here - no ring.
Card here - no mark.
Curtain here - toy partly hidden.

Mira named what she could see and what was missing.

EMPTY BOX

BLANK CARD

STILL BELL

CURTAIN

TOY PARTLY HIDDEN

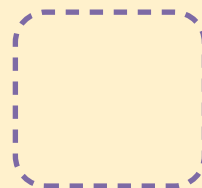

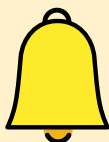

Which pictures show an object you can look at?

Which empty frame means no object was shown yet?

Move your finger from each picture or frame to a basket.

OBJECTS TO LOOK AT

NO OBJECT SHOWN YET

Box, bell and card: objects to look at.
Empty frame: no object was shown yet.

That is what NO EXAMPLE GIVEN means.

OBJECTS TO LOOK AT

NO OBJECT SHOWN YET

BOX

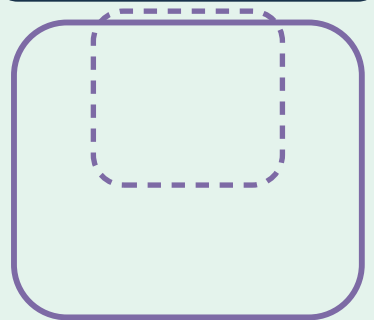

BELL

CARD

EMPTY FRAME

I spotted.
I wondered.
I checked.
I kept the surprises.

Add your name, mark or sticker with a grown-up.

MIRA

NOTHING-HUNT DETECTIVE

FIVE CLUES

PIP

LEVEL COMPLETE

Mira closed the first case and placed the completed map in the workshop library.

A new parcel waited: how can ONE whole have many parts?

Next: One Whole, Many Parts - Book E02 and the next game level

ONE WHOLE

NEXT BOOK

